Figure 1: Sales of Three Fast Food Outlets in the First Quarter of 2020

The bar graph above illustrates about sales (in thousand RM) of three fast food outlets in 2020.

Notably, Flame Burger recorded that its highest sale at 300 thousand RM on April compared to March decreased at closed to 200 thousand RM. The decrease may be from the increased of competition.

Meanwhile, Muse Pizza achieved its highest sale of slightly more than 150 thousand RM in March but subsequently sale declined to 100 thousand RM in April. It may be caused from the poor customer satisfaction.

Finally, Seasea's Fish and Chips recorded at constant sales nearly to 50 thousand RM from January to April. This stability suggests consistent customer base, possibly due to regular promotions through social media.

In conclusion, the bar graph highlights the importance of market strategies tailored to each outlet's performance and customer preferences.
